Join NCWF's CROWN Chapter in a wildflower hike led by Mary Stauble, a Catawba Lands Conservancy volunteer and native plant specialist. This property is one of the most botanically diverse place in Mecklenburg County with over 100 species of wildflowers (many will be in bloom) on the 20 acre site. We'll observe pollinators, look under rocks and logs and experience the many wonders of nature here.

"I Spy..." is a partnership program between CROWN and NCWF's Great Outdoors University.
